

MAUI TEACHERS MEET.

Celebration of Pestalozzi's One Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary

WIRTH'S CIRCUS ALL THE RAGE.

Minister King and Party Inspect Roads. Changes at Kahului—Social Gatherings—H. A. Baldwin Manager Hamakua-poko Plantation—Bark Geneva.

MAUI, Jan. 11.—Nothing has excited Maui so much since the last attempt at revolution as the arrival of Wirth's Australian circus last Tuesday morning per steamer Kinsai from Hilo. The whole population of the island must have been under the canvas Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights. Thursday evening two full trains conveyed Makawao, Spreckelsville and Kahului people to the show, and the large audience which filled the tent to overflowing must have numbered more than a thousand. Everybody seemed to be there, the elite in the stalls and "hol polloi" on the wooden seats of the semi-circle. The exhibition was most satisfactory, and the financial results so pleasing to the manager that he has decided to give another performance this evening. The huge tent was pitched in the vacant lot known as the vineyard, in the rear of Antone Borba's premises.

Friday evening, the 10th, Miss Millie Beckwith of Sunnyday gave a party to meet Miss Eastman of Honolulu. The chief feature of the evening's entertainment was a progressive game, which caused much interest and excitement. Each table was furnished with letters of the alphabet on pieces of cardboard, which, upon being turned right side up, guesses were made on Christian names, beginning with the letter presented to view, or names of animals, birds, hardware, furniture, clothing, etc. The person making the most rapid and successful guesses within a given space of time were given red stars, and the two unsuccessful ones at each table green stars. D. C. Lindsay won first prize. Afterward dumb crabs and other games completed a delightful evening.

Today the annual meeting of the Maui Teachers' Association took place at the Wailuku Government school house. The meeting was called to order by President Moore, and after reading of the reports of last meeting by the secretary, Miss Turner, a resume of Pestalozzi's life was read by Mr. Harris of Spreckelsville from the Progressive Educator. During the afternoon session Mr. Osmer Abbott, of Lahaina, read a paper on the "Greatness of Pestalozzi." Another paper by H. S. Townsend, Inspector-General of Schools, upon the "Principles of Pestalozzi," was also read. The meeting was in honor of the 50th anniversary of the great educator's birth, which occurred Jan. 12, 1748. After general discussions and election of officers the convention adjourned.

The Salvation Army have made their headquarters at Wailuku in rooms opposite the post office. Hana plantation will shortly construct a six-mile flume running from the Koolau side to the mill. It is to be used for fluming and irrigating purposes. The vessel which was to have brought the lumber has been reported as disabled, and is not now expected until the latter part of next week.

J. W. Caville, of Paia, is entertaining a young brother.

Houlihan is the name of the new club at Paia.

Marshal Brown was in Wailuku to day.

Wailuku Hotel had a rush of customers today entertaining members of the teachers' convention and the circus company.

Minister J. A. King and superintendent of Public Works W. E. Rowell, accompanied by Messrs. L. A. Andrews, C. H. Dickey and G. P. Wilder, enjoyed a long horseback ride yesterday through the Kula section of country. They inspected the home stead lands and roads to the Ulu-paia boundary line.

Ulu-paia G. P. Wilder's removal to Honolulu, it will be remembered, Berg and book-keeper Metcalf at the railroad office in Kahului.

H. A. Baldwin is now manager of Hamakua-poko plantation.

The Paia church and society will hold their annual meeting at the church parlors on the evening of the 16th.

Thursday, the 9th, the bark Geneva, Poulitz master, arrived at Kahului in ballast, 14 days from San Pedro. She will take a thousand tons of sugar. Both the Geneva and Mary Dwyer will sail next week.

Weather—Warm and pleasant.

Maui Roads Inspected.

Minister King and Superintendent of Public Works Rowell returned from Maui by the Claudine Sunday. Roads as far as Kula were inspected and found in good condition, while those into the homesteads were in need of repair. The officials were accompanied by Sheriff L. A. Andrews, C. H. Dickey and G. P. Wilder.

Captain Cochran Lectures.

While the U. S. S. Philadelphia was on her northward cruise, over four thousand people visited the cruiser at Tacoma, Wash. Captain Henry Clay Cochran, whose name is revered in this and many other lands, delivered a lecture, with stereopticon views, while the warship was in Tacoma. The proceeds were for the benefit of the Children's Home, and the views shown were the finest ever seen on the Pacific Coast. Scenes in and about Honolulu and places on the other islands were displayed and received much applause. A large and cultured audience attended the lecture and quite a substantial sum was realized for the little waifs to enjoy during the holidays.

Circus Coming Again.

Manager J. J. Cameron, of Wirth's circus, came down by the Claudine Sunday to make arrangements to transfer the circus to Kauai. The company will arrive here from Kahului next Sunday morning, and if satisfactory arrangements can be made, will proceed to Kauai for a brief season, otherwise the circus will give a performance at Waianae and show here until the next steamer is due for the Orient. Manager Cameron speaks highly of the courtesies shown the circus by Wilder's Steamship Company.

STORY OF TWO LEPERS.

Ran Away from the Settlement and Came to Honolulu.

Perils Encountered in Crossing the Channel in a Small Boat—Men in Hiding—One Captured.

Palea, a leper who escaped from Kalaupapa some six months ago, was captured by Detective Kaapa in a house back of the home of Charles Clarke, Liliha street, on Thursday night. The story of the leper since his escape is as follows:

Palea and a comrade, Ben Kamau-u, left the leper settlement at Kalaupapa, Molokai, in a canoe about dusk and set sail for Oahu, making in the direction of Diamond Head. A heavy sea was running and the strong wind made the trip a most dangerous one in so small a craft. Frequently it looked as if the poor unfortunates would surely be drowned. Both were kept busy either bailing out the canoe or managing it. The wind died down and the men reached the coast of Oahu during the next night at a point between Kaalawai and Maunaloa, just exactly where is not known. They struck out for a hiding place and remained there for two weeks, when Ben Kamau-u gave himself up and was sent back to Molokai. He vouchsafed no information as to the whereabouts of Palea.

Since that time the authorities have been on the lookout for the remaining refugee, but not until recently could any information regarding his whereabouts be gleaned.

Palea has long been identified as an opium fiend, and it is probably to that circumstance he can attribute his capture.

When Detective Kaapa went to the house off Liliha street and among a series of taro patches, he found Palea stretched out on a bed in full enjoyment of the seductive fumes of opium.

He expressed no surprise at being arrested, but seemed rather to enjoy the prospect of returning to Molokai. On the road to the leper receiving station at Kalihi he delivered himself as follows:

"You may think that I am not pleased at being captured, but there you are mistaken. When I left the leper settlement at Molokai it was not because I had not been excellently treated, but it was on account of the love which I bear for my wife and child. At Molokai I was furnished with all the comforts of life and have not one word of complaint to offer, but those who do not know the qualms of homesickness and the loneliness of the thought of dear ones separated by the dreadful disease of which I am a victim cannot judge of the feeling which prompted me to visit my home even under the most adverse circumstances. But I am sorry I ran away and I must say that I am glad to get back. I wanted to give myself up long ago, but was ashamed to do so, remembering the crime I had committed. If my wife and child are only cared for I will feel perfectly satisfied, knowing that in leaving I will remove a source of danger to them."

For a pain in the chest a place of danger dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain, and another on the back between the shoulder, will afford prompt relief. This is especially valuable in cases where the pain is caused by a cold and there is a tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by all druggists and dealers. BENSON, SMITH & Co. agents for H. I.

A TENNIS CONTEST.

Tournament to Be Held Here in a Few Weeks.

Excellent Record of Local Players—The Game Has Enjoyed a Boom During the Past Year.

Perhaps those interested in tennis are not fully aware that there is to be a tournament here in a few weeks. Time passes quickly, and the date of the contest will have arrived before one can come to the full realization of it.

Tennis on the islands has, perhaps, never received such a boom as that which occurred within the last year. The enthusiasm manifested for such a long time goes far toward refuting the argument so often introduced, that athletics here are simply spasmodic efforts. There is a boom for a short time and then interest dies out. This argument is built on good foundation in regard to certain branches of athletics, but tennis it does not touch for a moment.

There have been many tournaments in the city of Honolulu ere this, and some fine playing by local players has gone on record, but tennis enthusiasts should make sure to give the sport-loving public of this city in the next tournament an exhibition the like of which has never been witnessed on the islands before. This can be done only by constant practice. Each and every player should devote a certain length of time every afternoon to downright hard work.

The effect of conscientious work has been made apparent of late. The Pacific Tennis Club was divided into classes recently and the members assigned according to the judgment of the committee which had the matter in hand. Many of those in the lower classes have been on the courts nearly every afternoon. One of the adherents of the third class defeated another in the second recently and their positions were reversed. Both played a fine game, but the third-class man had simply made up his mind to play tennis and had advanced his standard.

If this kind of work is kept up by the tennis players of the city, as it should, there is no reason why the next tournament should not be one capable of being put on record in any country.

RAQUET AND BALL.

SINGING COURSE.

Scholars of Prof. Cook Have Made Rapid Progress in Lessons.

The Y. M. C. A. singing course is all but ended, and in consequence there are many who feel they are about to lose something that has been of great value to them. At the beginning of the course Prof. Cook took in hand some sixteen people, the majority of whom were ladies, for the purpose of giving them elementary lessons in singing. As the lessons advanced the class as a whole found they were going altogether too quickly and that the work was most profitable.

Professor Cook has an admirable method of teaching, which has as a foundation the principle that nothing new must be started until the old has been mastered. In this manner some members of the class have been made to do things that they thought were all but impossible in the beginning.

So pleased have the members of the class become over what has been attained during the Y. M. C. A. course that many are making efforts to have the term prolonged for another twenty lessons. This is very flattering to Professor Cook, of whom it can be said that he has labored assiduously in the interest of those under his tutelage.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Result of an Accidental Discharge at Kakaako Butts.

There came near being a fatal accident at Kakaako Sunday morning while Co. 6, Citizens Guard, was engaging in target practice.

N. W. Brundage, one of the members, had just finished a score and turned to Captain O'Brien for the result of his shoot, when he was startled by a shot and feeling something strike him in the leg. He was naturally very much excited over the occurrence and did not realize his narrow escape from being killed or seriously injured.

Lieutenant Copeland, who was just behind Brundage, jumped off the rail where he was sitting awaiting his turn to shoot, and in doing so his rifle was discharged, the ball passing through the trousers and under-clothing of Mr. Brundage's left leg just at the knee. The bullet burned the skin and sped onward through a crowd of men standing near, but fortunately without injuring any one. The bullet was a .45.70 and had it entered Mr. Brundage's leg would have crushed the knee, and possibly to an extent requiring amputation. It was indeed a narrow escape for the gentleman, and it is needless to say he will not go target shooting again for some time at least.

ACCIDENT AT WAILUKU.

Marshal Brown Investigated the Recent Railway Smash.

Marshal Brown and C. H. Kluegel returned by the Claudine Sunday morning. They visited the scene of the recent accident on the Wailuku plantation railway. The investigation did not result in placing the blame upon any person. The track had been relaid since the accident and it was impossible to decide what had been its condition, before the event. The rest of the road was in fair condition and had been carefully laid out. The accident occurred at an up grade where there was a sharp curve. The engine was pushing a train of fifteen cars at the time.

ALOHA, BALTIMORE.

Big White Cruiser Starts on Her Homeward Bound Journey.

Wharves Thronged With People to Watch Her Departure—Italian Warship Cheers, Good-Bye.

The U. S. S. Baltimore finished coaling at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, and preparations were commenced at once for her departure. The ship's boats were kept busy during the morning and afternoon conveying friends of Captain Day and the officers aboard and ashore. Several people went aboard the Bennington and watched the big, white cruiser leave the harbor.

It took some time to get the ship turned round and into proper position for entering the channel. In doing this the cruiser had to run close in to the Fort street wharf.

As the Baltimore got under way, shortly after 4 o'clock, the Bennington crew ascended the rigging and gave three rousing cheers as a parting salute. The compliment was returned by the Baltimore, followed by firing of rockets and exclamations of farewell from numerous shore boats in the harbor.

The white cruiser entered the channel flying a homeward-bound pennant 185 feet long, while from the stern floated a fine silk flag 30 feet in length. As the Baltimore passed the Christoforo Colombo the Italian sailors gave the regulation lusty cheers and the band played the American national anthem and other popular airs. The Colombo ran up signals wishing the American vessel a pleasant voyage.

While the departure of the Baltimore was not in the form of an ovation which was tendered the Philadelphia, yet her leave-taking was watched by hundreds of people that crowded the different wharves. Captain Day expects to reach San Francisco in ten days at the latest.

Farewell to the Prince.

The farewell dinner given Prince Luigi di Savoia and officers of the Italian corvette by Consul and Mrs. Schaefer at their home, Nuuanu avenue, last evening was a very pleasant occasion. The tables were decorated with Italian colors and the menus adorned with the same. The Kawaiaha Club furnished music. Besides the Prince and party of officers there were present Mr. and Mrs. Renjes, Mrs. Graham, Miss Grau, Mr. and Mrs. Hoting, Misses Widemann (2), Miss Mollie Atkinson, Miss Grace Robertson, Miss Kate McGrew, Captain Pigman of the Bennington and Mons. Vizzavona.

Company A, N. G. H., are thinking of celebrating the 17th by going into camp on that day. The matter will be definitely settled at the next meeting of the company.

Many merchants are well aware that their customers are their best friends, and take pleasure in playing them with the best goods obtainable. As an instance we mention Perry & Cameron, prominent druggists of Flushing, Michigan. They say: "We have no hesitation in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to our customers, as it is the best cough medicine we have ever sold, and always gives satisfaction." For sale at 25 and 30 cents per bottle by all druggists and dealers. BENSON, SMITH & Co. agents for H. I.
